

Subject Line: Take It To The Limit...

Hey Susan,

Tom here from Liquid Gold and I've got a little challenge for you...Do you think you can spot a phony when you see one?

I stumbled upon this crazy story online the other day. It's about a guy named Randy Meisner. Randy was a member of the rock group, the Eagles, back in the 70's.

You may remember a song named "Take it to the Limit?" - That's Randy on lead vocals.

Anyway, Randy was far and away, not the most popular or recognizable member from the band. Since he wasn't in the spotlight any longer and there were very few, if any, current photos of him, a clever con man figured it was a safe bet to impersonate Randy instead of one of the more famous musicians in the Eagles.

And for a while, the plan worked...

This smooth talking con man charmed unsuspecting women into free drinks, dinner, and more. He even talked one woman into paying his gambling debts!

But it didn't stop there. This guy actually convinced several guitar companies into giving him thousands of dollars of free gear in exchange for his fake endorsement.

Crazy story right?

Well...eventually he was caught.

But that story got me thinking...

How many supplements are out there masquerading as genuine Fish Oil?

Have you ever spent your hard earned money on a Fish Oil supplement and it didn't get the results the product claimed it would or worse yet, no results at ALL?

Odds are it's because the main ingredient was an IMPOSTER.

It's possible there may not be ANY fish oil in the "Fish Oil" you're currently using.

That's right - many products on the market that claim to be made of fish oil, are really just made of chemically altered, synthetic omega-3 fatty acids.

Well...that all changes today.

(CLICK LINK HERE)

With Liquid Gold Fish Oil, you know exactly where it comes from and what it's made of. Our fish oil is made exclusively from Wild Alaskan Sockeye Salmon – one of the purest fish in the world.

When you open the bottle the first thing you will notice is the brilliant orange hue shining from each capsule. This bright orange color is a result of the diet of Sockeye Salmon which makes it one of the healthiest species of wild salmon.

Why is this important? Because omega-3 fatty acids in their natural form are much more bioavailable, which means your body will be able to absorb and process the omega-3 fatty acids.

Just take two soft gels each day and watch as your aches and pains in your joints start to disappear...your skin and hair begin to look shinier and healthier...and your mood improves.

Ultimately, isn't that exactly what you expect from your Fish Oil?

(CLICK LINK HERE)

Give Liquid Gold a try for just two weeks and you'll see what I mean. The results will speak for themselves and you'll be sure that your new fish oil is the real deal – not an IMPOSTER.

Now I know that you'll like Liquid Gold so much that you're going to keep on using it way longer than two weeks and because of this, I'm offering the next ten customers only, 2 bottles for the price of 1.

(CLICK LINK HERE)

To your good health,

Tom

P.S. Want more proof that it works? How about a 30-day, no risk guarantee?

(CLICK LINK HERE)