

Subject Line: The Ole Sniff Test....

Hi Jim,

Paul Wilson here from The Men's Dating Coach...When's the last time you did this? Many of us have been taught the safe and proper way to interact with a dog that we're unfamiliar with is to stick our hand out and let the dog sniff it.

It's supposed to be a safe and non-threatening way for human and for DOG, to "test" one another. Trainers often refer to this initial interaction as "The Sniff Test."

But I've recently read this is not really an approach we should be using. It can actually have the opposite effect and cause the dog to feel threatened.

When you think about it, this actually makes sense.

And you know, this got me thinking...

What if the traditional techniques most men have learned to interact with women are all wrong?

Yep...We've been using our own version of "The Sniff Test" and it's failing us miserably!

Now I don't know if any of us has ACTUALLY been bitten by a girl for extending the proverbial hand to their face (or maybe some of us have been) but I'm pretty sure that we've all felt the bite of rejection more times than we'd care to admit, all because we've been using ineffective methods to approach and interact with unfamiliar women.

And just like the poor fellas who've been stiffed by and bitten by a new dog, we walk away from our interactions with an attractive woman feeling hurt, rejected and worst of all, scared to ever walk up to another woman again.

Does this sound familiar to you?

What if I told you it doesn't have to be this way?

What if there was a natural and easy way that ANY guy can use to approach the woman of his dreams (or really just about any woman whom you're attracted to) without feeling intimidated by what she's going to think or overwhelmed with fear that she is going to reject you...

Would you be interested?

Good. Because you won't find this stuff anywhere else but right here.

With The Men's Dating Coach Confidence Builder Program, you will discover strategies and tactics you can easily implement that will not only make any woman feel comfortable with you but will also make her LIKE you.

You can use these "techniques" with meeting new women in just about any setting - bars, coffee shops, malls, even the checkout counter at your local grocery store.

I'm going to empower you with a simple blueprint to approach a new woman that will foster trust and will leave her with a sense of intrigue and attraction to you. And best of all, your communication with her will feel natural and effortless, right from the very beginning.

Of course, it doesn't hurt that you'll walk away with her phone number and a potential date.

And honestly, isn't that exactly what you've been yearning for?

But these aren't the only "secrets" I'm going to share with you. With each new woman that you meet, you're going to feel more and more confident. Plus, your conversations will feel just as good and fulfilling for you as they will for her.

Now I know what you're thinking... "But Paul, this stuff only works for guys with tons of confidence, tons of muscle or movie star good looks!"

Wrong. My system has been proven to work for just about any guy. The Confidence Builder Program has been working for men of all ages, all backgrounds and all walks of life. You don't have to be a wealthy businessman or a handsome movie star to speak to and even flirt with attractive women but you might just start to feel more powerful and self-assured.

Who wouldn't want that?
